

NEXUS TECHNOLOGIES Q4 2025 FINANCIAL AUDIT REPORT

Audited by PriceWaterhouseGlobal LLP | Published: February 2026

1. Consolidated Revenue Summary

Nexus Technologies demonstrated exceptional annual growth in fiscal year 2025. Total annual revenue reached $142.8M, representing a 34.2% year-over-year expansion driven primarily by the Enterprise AI Software Division.

Fiscal Quarter	Cloud Subscription ($M)	Professional Services ($M)	Licensing ($M)	Total Revenue ($M)
Q1 2025	$24.2M	$4.1M	$2.8M	$31.1M
Q2 2025	$27.5M	$3.9M	$3.1M	$34.5M
Q3 2025	$30.8M	$4.4M	$3.3M	$38.5M
Q4 2025	$32.4M	$4.2M	$2.1M	$38.7M
Full Year 2025	$114.9M	$16.6M	$11.3M	$142.8M

2. Operational Expenses Breakdown

Operating expenses totaled $98.4M for the full year 2025. Research and Development (R&D;) represented the largest operational expenditure at $48.2M (49.0% of total OPEX), emphasizing our ongoing commitment to frontier AI model fine-tuning and inference infrastructure.

Sales and Marketing (S&M;) amounted to $32.1M, reflecting expanded customer acquisition in Europe and the APAC region. General and Administrative (G&A;) expenses were kept lean at $18.1M.

3. EBITDA & Operating Margins

Adjusted EBITDA for Q4 2025 stood at $11.4M (29.5% EBITDA margin), compared to $7.8M in Q4 2024. Full-year free cash flow was $26.8M, representing a cash conversion rate of 72.4% relative to net operating income.

4. Balance Sheet & Liquidity Position

As of December 31, 2025, Nexus Technologies held $68.4M in cash and cash equivalents, and $24.0M in short-term US Treasury bills. Total liabilities stood at $31.2M, with zero long-term funded debt obligations.

5. FY 2026 Guidance & Risk Factors

Management projects FY 2026 total revenue between $185M and $195M, driven by rapid customer migration to automated generative document workflows. Primary risk factors include GPU allocation supply constraints and potential regulatory scrutiny under the EU AI Act.